

Wednesday, 11 September 2013 - Strasbourg

Debate

Pino Arlacchi (S&D), blue-card question . – Mr Van Orden, you say – and I agree – that dictators only understand force or the threat of force. So, in the case of the other dictators left after Assad, what if instead of being discouraged by an attack they start doing exactly the opposite, and go into the nuclear game, if they have nuclear weapons, just as a way of being sure of not being attacked?

[source: www.europarl.europa.eu]